And the winners are...

Gala night in London sees the announcement of the best of the best at this year's International Historic Motoring Awards

TABLES THRONGED with classic car enthusiasts and industry insiders as the winners were honoured at the 2016 International Historic Motoring Awards, hosted by Octane in conjunction with the private bank, EFG.

After being pored over by a 22-strong judging panel including such leading lights as Jay Leno, Derek Bell, Nick Mason, Dr Franz-Josef Paefgen, Peter Stevens and Jochen Mass, the shortlist of entries – in no fewer than 11 categories – could finally be narrowed down and the winners announced.

As well as those 11 categories, awards were given for Car of the Year, sponsored by Octane and voted for by Octane readers, and for Lifetime Achievement. Uniquely, the latter was given not to a person but to a speed-related geographical phenomenon...

The gongs were handed out by the evening's master of ceremonies, TV sports presenter Steve Rider, best known for his masterful hosting of Formula 1 coverage at the BBC. And such is the scale of this gala evening, now in its sixth year, that it has outgrown its original Renaissance St Pancras Hotel venue and moved into the larger, more historically significant premises of Guildhall – the City's oldest non-ecclesiastical stone building, which dates back to the 15th Century and is located in The Square Mile.

To find out who won what, see the panel of shortlisted finalists (far right). Details of next year's event will be announced in a future issue.
